

Business Systems Analyst

The Illinois Housing Development Authority is searching for a Business Analyst to join our expanding and dynamic IT team. The business systems analyst has a general knowledge of computer applications from both business and technical perspective. The business analyst approaches the work with a business orientation not a technical one and acts as a liaison between people using the systems and the technical environment of programmers and systems. A business systems analyst assists in creating new models, changes to the current systems, and understands relationships between systems. Understanding of Agile methodologies of project management preferred. Previous experience with JIRA, Sharepoint workflow development, MongoDB reporting and Microsoft Project a plus.

Job Requirements

Core Competencies & Attributes:

- Bachelor's degree in Computer Science or Information Technology or related field preferred
- 2 - 4 years experience as a Business Analyst preferred
- Understanding of Agile Project Management
- SharePoint workflow development a plus
- SQL Server Reporting Services (SSRS) development experience a plus
- Development of project plans in Microsoft Project is desired but not required
- Ability to work independently and meet time-sensitive project deadlines
- Strong initiative and self-motivation skills
- Working knowledge of loan origination and servicing systems or financial accounting systems is a plus

Excellent benefits package, including 401 (k); immediate vesting.

To apply submit resume and salary to: <https://home2.eease.adp.com/recruit/?id=8245792>

EOE