AHPAA Statute (310 ILCS 67) identifies communities, known as Non-Exempt Local Governments (NELGs) with two criteria: (1) incorporated municipal governments (e.g., counties, towns, villages, cities, etc.) with a population of at least 1,000 people; and (2) Non-Exempt Local Governments (NELGs) having a portion of the local year-round housing stock considered affordable that is below 10%. The statewide affordability list, published at www.ihda.org, does not include Census Designated Places (which are not incorporated as municipalities), or places reporting no ("0") population. The statewide affordability list does include incorporated places under 1,000 in population. Data Source: U.S. Census American Community Survey, 2011 5-Year Estimates.
